

Everyday Independence

This program aims to help learners develop independent living/life skills with a focus on upskilling employment skills through practical hands-on activities. It is delivered using a blended model, combining classroom and off-site community locations. Learners will have the opportunity to contribute to the course content. Employability skills will be explicitly taught and reinforced to ensure solid learning outcomes.

This class is suitable for a diverse range of adults, including those experiencing long-term unemployment and/or those living with a disability.
